Translator's Notes So Far

Japanese School System

The Japanese school system begins formally at the elementary level which spans six years, followed by 3 years of junior high. At this point compulsory education ends. Senior high school is for those who wish to go on to the colleges and universities and lasts for 3 years.

At many schools in the existing Japanese education system you have to pass your final exams every year or be forced to repeat say your 3rd year of Junior High school. At Tsinghua however there is no such requirement and if you do your school work, you will graduate. There are of course some students who don't even manage that as well as others who choose not to graduate at all.

Mecha-Ju-Kun

This is apparently TV show that Ju-do (Jin) likes a lot. I don't know the actual Japanese name but I am calling it such because it sounds OK.

Daigo Dango

Hinda-sensei enjoys nudging around with the names and in this case while the Kary for the first name and family name are different, I suspect the pronunciation is the same for both. Looks odd, hope I guessed right.

"Ki"

The human body is believed by many people to have lines of energy that circulate through the body independent of any actual blood vessels and such.

This force is referred to as the "Ki" and is believed to play a part in the proper balance of the human life force.

It can be harnessed to do all kinds of things, such as break large rocks and destroy enemies (many break your ovaries).

The "Tanden" nua point below and behind your navel, and an important focus for "Ki".

Gee, that was a lot

RWC

Konaki-ya

or "Old Man Crying like a Child", it is a mythical Japanese evil spirit that licks by the road side and takes the form of a small crying child asking to be carried.

Once a traveller picks it up, exchanges it into stone for increases in weight until the victim is "split".

KOTARO MAKARITORU!

Judo-
Han

an RKC project

Issue: Volume 1, Part A

Source: COMIDPLAY

Date: 23 July 2012

From the Abyss

Welcome to the first issue of the Shin Kotaro Makaritoru! "Judo-han" scanlation by RKC. The manga is being translated from the Chinese edition of SKM, so the translation of both dialogue and character names may be a bit off.

This manga series uses a lot of Judo jargon, and I will be mixing and matching them with English through out - so if you ever get to the end you'll be well versed in all the technical Judo gibberish.

"Senryoku-senyo"

The first principle of Judo formulated by the founder, Jigoro Kano, it is translated at <http://www.judoinfo.com> into "maximum efficiency, while in the Chinese edition it's "To Overcome Steel by Subtlety". The reason to take away from here is that Judo is not about using strength and power to defeat your opponents, but careful use of minimum force in order to make the opponent defeat themselves.

Jujitsu or Jujutsu?

Both spellings seem to be used, and I can't make up my mind. While Judo is manifested by the Kodokan, there are many different styles (ryu) of jujitsu, which refers to a general type of hand to hand combat commonly practiced before the ascendency of Judo in the 1900s.

Jujitsu still exists, however in many ryu, and is often considered to be more "dangerous" as many of the moves borrowed from Judo are still retained.

Does that mean they are pretty good?

This doesn't sound good!

Because the school's internal selection tournament only allows team entries, so if the captain and vice captain aren't there, things could get tricky.

I can't do that.

...but, that bold vice captain is far too up himself!

Why not take him out as well?

You can surely defeat him!

They are far weaker than me.

Don't worry.

Is that the rumored dirty money?

Summer night night, flying

Yoko Shiki Gakko: "Cassiopea Four Point, Price of..."

I have been pinned by a karate user?

This is
Hime Shiki
Gakko?

WHAT!?

Until 30 seconds is up I still have a chance!

Do not interfere!

Even if he neglects his karate, he would not forget martial!

Foolish! Challenging Isotaro to martial!

In Judo-competitions if the opponent is pinned for 30 seconds then it counts as a victory

I can break them in 30 seconds!

Big deal! Just create a pressure zone!

Watch out you don't get pregnant!

30 seconds...

By simply shifting his feet, he cleverly incinerates the opponent!

How amazing!

But rowdies who'd actually bother pinning the opponent on the head?

"30 seconds" is a short time but if you can pin an enemy for as long as the battlefield you can pin him on the head!

30 seconds

It's a head!

If this keeps up...

I have brought shame on all Fudoh!

Target their nipple marked!

Hanabishi make! Defeat
due to disappointment!

Waka-Tada - Portuguese for Anything Goes - a fight like a street brawl with no rules

Wasn't this meant to be "Waka-Tada"?

"I...
I lost!"

That pining
just then.
I don't think I could've broken free.
[Sighs]

That's what it said on the sign!

Yes, that's right!

"Volunteer"
right?

Oh.
Now
that's interesting...

Get him,
Doagel!

Now we have an excuse to start a fight...

...he used
Judo

Not only did all of my techniques fail... also...

I thought he would just go right in, but he sent us to spy things out instead...

Could it be... that Dodge is afraid?

Really, boy...?

He took on the Quenden and won too!

That guy doesn't give a shit about the guys in D-Block at all...

IDIOT!

Don't you dare be disrespectful about Dodge!

That is because he is the type to have no qualms about using the most vicious methods!

to be frank, Dodge when he is being careful...

You are only saying that because you don't know Dodge that well...

IS EVEN MORE TERRIFYING!

Someone's coming!

Just!

Also didn't I say this before!

"We welcome you to the Kodokan Karate Club. Especially beautiful girls. Let the school's No.1 handsome guy Kotaro Shindo give you his personal instruction, from change of clothing to newaza."

It's the Kodokan recruiting advertisement!

Gotta call it "Weird Pamphlet!"

And this isn't a "Weird Pamphlet"?

Then when that time comes I will listen to anything you say!

If there are, what will you do?

What did you say?

After reading this who would be dumb enough to join?

Sooner or later it will become "rubbish!"

what a waste of time!

Additionally, when you are making your application to join the club...

Even if you haven't heard of the mysterious "Kotaro Shindo" - once you see the last part -

SINCE THIS HAS HAPPENED... THEN TOMORROW IN REAL LIFE...

Maybe he is a "good guy" after all.

At least a blow is avoided.

Maybe you caught a cold after falling into the fountain?

Why do I feel a chill up my spine?

Hurry up and hurry down, you fat pig!

Before we take you to the sick-bay there is something that we need you to do...

Shadeh... you are so damn fat just carrying you here has tired me out!

Courses

In Japanese highschools there are sometimes different courses (joshueing) for students. These are a method providing the students with an education more closely tailored to their future needs.

The names vary but some examples are the "Arts", the "Technical", the "Tertiary Preparation" and of course, the "General" or standard course. After all, as student intends to become a shop assistant (or a secretary) (a company too lady) there's not much point preparing for the cut throat university entrance exams.

The Giant Bluefin Tuna

The Japanese like turning these big ocean fishes into sashimi— particularly the rich belly meat. One of the most well known features of the Tsukiji Fish Markets in Tokyo (Biggest Fish Market in the World) see its sections for these fish—often over $100,000 for larger specimens.

JUDO GIRL IN CRISIS!

I thought you joined the "First Woman's Judo Club" because of her...

No... it was just closer...

...what you don't know about the "Queen of Sudden Death"?

So is captain Mitougi famous?

But you mean... she was strong...

Yeah... like her nickname says... "Sudden Death"!

All of her matches were won within a minute...

She won last year's nationals in the 48kg and under class, all without shedding a single drop of sweat. She's the future star of female Judo!

Wow... Amazing!

You don't know what your feet are, right?

Haha! You might be a Jade know-it-all but—

But every where else I am no match for him—

Even though the name and feet are quite similar—

But...

I planned to practice Judo afterwards...

Let's walk home together.

Jigotai

By bending the knees and crouching, the Judo-ka thus lowers his center of gravity and makes himself less vulnerable target. This is a basic Judo posture and while it uses its name suggests primarily defensive stance the aim is to deny the enemy an opening while waiting for them to make a mistake-- upon which an attack or counter attack can be launched
